TEAM MANAGEMENT (S403117)

Prof. Kerstin PREUSCHOFF

6 ECTS

Semester: Fall

Teaching language: English

Description

The course introduces different approaches to team management, from practical applications to their theoretical and scientific underpinnings. The course is a mix of (1) short, interactive and immersive workshops for learners to experience different team scenarios and (2) lectures and workshops on the theoretical underpinnings of team management. The latter will link theoretical and scientific insights from finance, psychology, and neuroscience to practical problems in finance, banking & management.

This course uses an interactive and creative classroom design. It brings together students from multiple backgrounds and practitioners to facilitate the transfer of knowledge.
